Paine's Celery Compound

WEAK NERVES

Paine's Celery Compound is a Nerve Tonic which never fails. Containing Celery and Coca, those wonderful nerve stimulants, it speedily cures all nervous disorders.

RHEUMATISM

Paine's Celery Compound purifies the blood. It drives out the lactic acid, which causes Rheumatism, and restores the blood making organs to a healthy condition. It is the true remedy for Rheumatism.

KIDNEY COMPLAINTS

Paine's Celery Compound quickly restores the liver and kidneys to perfect health. This curative power, combined with its nerve tonics, makes it the best remedy for all kidney complaints.

DYSPEPSIA

Paine's Celery Compound strengthens the stomach, and quiets the nerves of the digestive organs. This is why it cures even the worst cases of Dyspepsia.

CONSTIPATION

Paine's Celery Compound is not a cathartic. It is a laxative, giving easy and natural action to the bowels. Regularity surely follows its use.

CURES Nervous Prostration Nervous Headache, Neuralgia Nervous Weakness, Stomach and Liver Diseases Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, and all affections of the Kidneys

"Sometimes," says Capt Daniel Holland of Lewiston "my wife and I like to see the old folk that is folks that are older than my wife and I. We went out, Thursday, and called on some of them. The first was on the Fitch sisters. We've always known them. They were powerful glad to see us. They came out to the door to welcome us. They are a pretty reasonably old family—pretty reasonably old. The youngest is 83 and the next is 89 and the oldest is 91. They have lived in the same town all their lives though they haven't always had the same name. Their house is about four miles from town in the Ryel neighborhood out beyond James Jordan's. They are master spry. The one that is 83 did a good washing in the forenoon of the day we called and she was pretty lively. The oldest sister ... Watts hymn ... but she sort of forgot the second one she tried. We had a nice call. In coming home we dropped in on Uncle David Ferring and found him and Mrs Ferring just as chatty and as soc... as though Uncle David weren't just in his 90th birthday

St Alban Commandery, Knights Templar, of Portland will make their annual excursion this year to Lake Winnipesaukee, July 12th and 13th the Sir Knights being accompanied by their ladies and Chandler's Band

Among the exports from Portland last week were 26 072 feet of planks, 290 089 feet of lumber 3 500 box shooks 20 100 gallons of oil 18 dozen shovels, 24 dozen chairs 7 8... pounds of cordage 1 623 yards cotton goods, 30 cases corn sheller. The imports included 1,4.. cases canned lobsters, 7,000 feet of spruce boards 10 100 live lobsters, 162 puncheons 10 hogsheads and 10 barrels molasses

The children's excursion to Sebago Lake, Saturday, makes a red letter event in the lives of many of the children who were privileged to go upon it. The story of the incident that prompted the generous act has been already told. Mr Ira ... Clark, of Portland whose little daughter was rescued from impending death under the wheels of an approaching locomotive ... couple of brave Fraternity boys ... this excursion to one thousand children in token of his gratitude and remembrance of the deed. The company went to Sebago Lake in a special train of fourteen cars the whole expense of the day being borne by Mr Clark

The Portland lady who is with her husband salmon fishing near the eastern shore of the Province of Quebec had just had a novel and interesting experience. She hooked a large fish and after a full hour's fight with it finally won the battle. The salmon when landed was found to weigh ... pounds probably the largest salmon ever caught by a lady. Her husband says that if the fish could have held out a half hour longer he would probably have pulled her in to the river

Sunday morning the members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and their friends, to the number of about two hundred left Portland by a special complimentary train over the Portland & Ogdensburg, for Sebago Lake where a very pleasant day was passed. At noon a picnic dinner was enjoyed, and later a sail on the steamer Manchester up the lake, turning around Frye's island and return. The time spent in the grove was delightful and it was the six o'clock Sunday evening when the party reached Portland on their return from the day's outing

At two o'clock Sunday morning the grocery store of Clarence O Waite East Deering was entered by burglars who blew open the safe but secured only two dollars in change and a counterfeit $5 bill. Mr Waite on going home Saturday night, had taken with him about two hundred dollars in bills. Mr Howard Knight, who lives opposite the store, had seen a man walking backward and forward with the store open and had spoken to the man and supposed some one was using the telephone. When the noise of the explosion showed him what was going on he immediately ran across when two men ran from the store towards Tukey's bridge. Mr Knight immediately telephoned the police station and several officers were dispatched to the vicinity, but did not succeed in making any arrests although two suspicious characters were met on Fox street and chased, but they succeeded in escaping

Franklin

The way the pews in the new churches at Farmington have been selling and renting is, in the opinion of the Chronicle the best evidence needed to prove that Farmington people have lost none of their interest in church going, though they have been without church homes since the 1886 fire. The pews in the new Methodist church were appraised from $45 to $125, yet all but about ten were quickly taken and at premiums ranging from $1 to $7 for choice. In the new Old South (Congregational) church, of the seventy four pews, about three-fourths were rented last Saturday, at prices ranging from $13 to $25 per year. Some of the members who took the latter will give four times that amount for the support of the pastor per year

Hancock

A wild animal is killing sheep around Surry and Bluehill and is creating considerable consternation among the farmers. He has been seen by a dozen persons who describe him as gray with short legs, a long bushy tail, and he is about the size of a Newfoundland dog. The animal is probably a large sized specimen of a Canadian lynx, and some valiant hunter in that section ought to appoint himself a committee on extermination and put an end to him.

John B Dinan, a brother of Joseph A Dinan ... in Rochester N H in 188 ... several thousand dollars. By the terms of his will this property goes to a Mrs Young with whom he has been living for twenty years and to whom he was generally supposed to be married. The brother, Joseph A Dinan has recently returned from Rochester where he has been contesting the will upon the ground that the mind of the deceased was unsound and that he was unduly influenced in making the will by the legatee. The case was tried last week, and the decision will be given the first Tuesday in July. Geo F Haley of Biddeford appeared for the contestant

There is much talk about the presidency of Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn. Some are urging the candidacy of the Rev Dr James M King of New York. Others are talking of making Bishop Foss chancellor and keeping Professor James M Van Vleck in his present position as acting president

Frederick Charles of Prussia, known as "the Red Prince" died just three years ago last Friday. He was a first cousin of the late Emperor. It was a curious coincidence which brought the deaths of these men on the same day of the month and of the week. June 15th will hold an important place in German history

The Chicago syndicate which built the magnificent Capitol of Texas—second only in size to the Capitol at Washington—expended $4 500 000 in cash. The public lands which they received in payment are said to be worth $5,040,000. The syndicate is composed of John V Farwell, Charles B Farwell his brother, and Abner Taylor

A traveler who came over from Antwerp assured the New York customs officials that his trunks contained only articles of personal wear, but to make sure the officers took a look into them. They found 328 pairs of ladies' kid gloves, 51 pairs of men's gloves, 52 pairs of silk gloves, 326 pairs of cloth gloves, 236 silk neckties and twenty pairs suspenders

Jay Gould told a newspaper reporter on Saturday that he was feeling pretty tired, but he was well enough, having no organic trouble whatever. Said he "I have great interests to look after, and there is no disguising the fact that I cannot stand the strain that I could ten years ago. I appreciate the fact, and I am taking greater care of myself. When I find I am overworked I stop. That is all there is to it."

During the recent Methodist General Conference, in New York, one of the clergymen preached in a fashionable Brooklyn church where the fervent ejaculations, once so common, are supposed to be entirely eliminated. The minister had preached for one hour and a quarter, and then said. "I am sorry I cannot enlarge on that point." Whereupon, according to the Christian Inquirer, an auditor startled all the people in his vicinity by a vigorous exclamation "Praise the Lord"

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, the stern reaper, Death, has again entered Independent Grange and severed from our fraternal chain another esteemed member, Brother Daniel Emerson, of Garland, formerly of Bradford, where he was a highly respected citizen,

Resolved, That in the death of Brother Emerson who has been called from all that makes this life dear, the Grange mourns the loss of a faithful member

Resolved, That in our sorrow, we remember the still greater sorrow of those dearer to him, and that we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved wife and family

Resolved That as a token of our regard these resolutions be inscribed upon our records and also sent to BANGOR WEEKLY COURIER for publication

Decision in Law

The following decision in law has been received by Clerk ... of the Eastern Law District

KENNEBEC COUNTY CASE

Loren P Judkins vs Maine Central Railroad Company. Motion sustained

Rescript—It is not necessarily negligence on the part of a railroad company as between the company and a brakeman on duty in its yard that a freight car is found in use on its road in such a damaged and crippled condition that it exposes the employe to more than the common risk and danger which is incurred in handling ordinary cars. It is unavoidable that damaged cars must at times, and places, be handled by railroad employes

A proper management of a railroad may require that reasonable rules and regulations be adopted and published in order that employes may be apprised of any unusual danger which they may be subjected to in handling damaged cars

If there be danger in handling a crippled car which an experienced brakeman can appreciate for himself, the defective condition of the car being known to him and he voluntarily assumes the risk of moving it in a manner which exposes him to unusual danger, when the emergency is not so extreme as to require the service of him he cannot recover of the company if injured while so engaged

A yard brakeman cannot recover against a railroad company for an injury received in falling from a flat freight car loaded with coal while attempting to stop the car from running down a side-track and possibly off at the end of it, by jumping upon the brake beam in the front of and under the car, and pressing it down with his feet holding himself to the car with one hand and pulling up the brake chain with the other, the excuse for his not being that the brake staff was so bent that it could not be effectively used in the ordinary manner, there being no rule of the company nor any order from any officer requiring such an undertaking by him

It was a reckless act done at his own risk and unauthorized by any express or implied permission of the company

Agricultural.

For butter making, see that your cows give milk rich in butter fat and that the fat is in large globules, so that it will readily separate from the milk

Good care and keep are as essential as proper selection and breeding

See that the food given to your cows is of the best quality and in the best condition for digestion

Be careful that the ration fed to your cows has a proper balance of elements approximating one part of nitrogenous food to five or six parts of carbonaceous. The nitrogenous foods are also known as "albuminoids," and the carbonaceous as "carbo-hydrates."

Unclean, decayed or improper food of any kind will injure the quality of the milk and the health of the cow. So impure, stagnant or unclean water will injure both the cow and the quality of the milk. Wholesome food and water are necessary to keep the cow healthy, and only healthy cows give wholesome milk

The warmer the milk when set, the more complete will be the separation of the cream from the milk at any given lower temperature, and the more rapidly the temperature falls, the more rapid will be the separation of the cream from the milk. Cream rises best when the temperature is falling; very slowly when the temperature is stationary; and little or not at all when the temperature is rising.

Mixed pasture grasses, including clover, make a well-balanced summer ration, but a little dry feed is relished exceedingly, and is beneficial. Some of the best dairymen not only feed hay, but corn meal and bran, or some other form of grain, all summer, to advantage.

Be sure to have some soiling crop to cut the feed during the dry season and by no means permit a shrinkage of the flow of milk because of lack of food. It cannot be fully regained

Remove the cream while the milk is yet sweet, so that the milk can be fed sweet to pigs or calves. No good dairyman favors letting the milk more than slightly begin to change before skimming. To let the milk lopper is positively bad, as it renders it impossible to remove the cream without taking too much caseous matter with it. When cream is added thoroughly stir and mix it with the mass. Add no cream for twelve hours before churning, as it will not ripen and churn and will therefore remain in the buttermilk.

The cream should be churned as soon as it becomes slightly acid. If souring goes beyond this, the acid begins to cut and waste the butter fats. Some however let the cream go so far as to even lopper. This gives a positive ... acid flavor to the butter, which many like while the extra amount of caseine retained in the butter makes up in weight for the loss of ... of the finer fats

It was claimed by the elder Voelcker chemist of the Royal Agricultural Society of England and by the late Prof L B Arnold that the finest-flavored and long-est-keeping butter is churned from sweet cream and is freest from caseous matter, while some claim that such butter is insipid in flavor and does not keep well

But sweet cream must be ripened by oxidizing before churning, and experiments say it must be churned at a lower temperature than sour cream in order to secure the best yield. The best temperature to which to ripen cream is about sixty degrees. It should be kept cool at below forty degrees and the temperature slowly raised to the churning point, or about sixty degrees

PROF HUXLEY ON THE MORALS OF HEALTH

Prof Huxley has predicted that the time will come when it will be a reproach to be sick. When one friend meets another he will as soon ask "Are you honest?" as "Are you well?" for a man will be considered foolish not to say criminal, who gets sick. Such a state of public feeling will sometime be brought about. Certainly it is true that the morals of health are receiving more and more attention. A greatly increasing number of people every year prevent the development of all blood, pulmonary and liver diseases. This is proved by the enormously increased use of Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which nips all such ailments in the bud june11 d&wlw

Like a Drink What Iced Coffee! When To-day Where At Thompson & Kellogg's

THE LIGHT OF HOME

A cheerful, healthy woman is the light of home but through over-exertion in her efforts to minister to the happiness of the household, her health is often impaired or weakness, or displacement brought on making life miserable, and clouding an otherwise happy home with gloom. The thoughtful and tender husband, in such cases, should be intelligent enough to perceive the cause of such gloom and suffering relieve the faithful wife from drudgery and furnish her with that best of friends to women, Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription, now recognized and used in thousands of homes as a certain cure for all those delicate afflictions peculiar to the female sex. Favorite Prescription is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years. june19 d&wlw

Don't miss the Coffee Festival at Thompson & Kellogg. They expect you to call and drink a glass of delicious iced coffee

"Man wants but little here below." This is particularly true of medicine, and he really needs a very small amount, provided it be of the right kind. Dr. Pierce's Pellets fill the bill in respect of size, and are stupendous in point of effectiveness. If you desire immediate relief from headache "liver complaint," indigestion and constipation, they will not fail you. d&wlw june19

Stop drinking ice water, it disturbs your digestion and induces severe summer trouble. In its place drink iced coffee as served Tuesday and Wednesday by Thompson & Kellogg free of expense. Don't miss trying it. june19

Are you going to have a lawn party this summer? If so don't fail to call at Thompson & Kellogg's Tuesday and Wednesday, and learn the secret of making iced coffee—it will please your guests better than any thing you can serve them

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be; for they make her "feel like a different person," so they all say, and their husbands say so too! june14 d&wlw

You like Iced Coffee, don't you? but you can't make it or get it to suit you. Just step in and see how Thompson & Kellogg prepare it, and after drinking their preparation you will say it is the most delicious summer drink you ever tasted. All it will cost you is your time.

Peculiar

Peculiar in combination, proportion and preparation of ingredients Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." The Opening Day.

... Republican National Convention convened Tuesday with Judge Thurston of Nebraska, as temporary chairman. His opening speech contained many excellent points and they were received with storms of applause. The probabilities are that Hon. M. M. Estee, of California, will be the permanent chairman. But little was done beyond the perfection of the organization Tuesday, and it is probable that to-day will be largely devoted to the presentation of candidates, so that the balloting will not commence until Thursday. That a great majority of the delegates earnestly desire the nomination of Mr. Blaine is made more apparent each day. But for his voluntary withdrawal from the field no other name would have been seriously considered at Chicago. This unprecedented manifestation of popularity is a magnificent testimonial to the sterling Republicanism and statesmanship of the Maine leader. Every candidate, however, will be given ample opportunity to develop his strength in the convention with the assurance that the nominee will have a united party behind him. Should it be found that no one of the different candidates is likely to secure a majority of the convention after a series of ballots and if all rivalries are settled by the unanimous nomination of Mr. Blaine, such a result would awaken a glad response in the hearts of Republicans everywhere, but should any of the gentlemen whose names are to be presented to the convention be selected as the Standard bearer, every Republican from Maine to California will enter the campaign with an enthusiasm that will carry him to victory in November. This is a Republican year.

An Honest Answer Desired.

If, on the contrary, the taking off of the tariff would give the people cheaper lumber, does THE WHIG wish to place itself in the position of attempting to deny them that privilege? If free lumber was a good thing for the people of burned out Eastport, as Congressman Boutelle appears to have thought, why wouldn't it be equally good for people who wish to build or repair houses in places which have not suffered from fire? "We propose" that THE WHIG "shall get on one side or the other of this question." Which does it choose?—Commercial.

The Commercial finds itself in an unenviable position. In a moment of temporary sanity it placed itself on record as denouncing the free lumber clause of the Mills bill as "a gratuitous injustice to our people" and now that the Democratic national and State conventions have endorsed that measure as the recognized policy of the party it is at a loss how to escape the responsibility of its previous remark. It lacks the courage to admit what seems to be the fact, namely, that it has been whipped into line in full support of the Mills bill, just as it was in the campaign of 1884 when the Morrison bill was pending, and seeks to avoid a humiliating confession by attempting to switch the discussion off on a side question.

The fact that the Commercial is ready to use the appeal for Government aid in behalf of the unfortunate town of Eastport as the basis for an attack upon the tariff shows the desperation of its position. Mr. Boutelle at the request and in behalf of his constituents who had been overtaken by a great disaster introduced a bill asking that the Government of the United States remit the duties collected on certain materials to be used in rebuilding the town. It was a mere bagatelle and the idea of attempting to make it appear that the benefit derived by the people of Eastport, if any, from the free admission of a few thousand feet of lumber and a few bricks, is an argument in favor of sweeping away all the barriers and subjecting this State to the free importation of the Canadian forests is worthy of the free trade advocates now in Congress, who attribute the seeking of employment in this State by Canadian laborers to climatic influences.

When Mr. Boutelle introduced this bill he was assured by the then Democratic leaders in the House that no one would think of attempting to make it the subject of a tariff discussion, but it seems there are minds small enough for such petty quibbling and one of them is located in the Commercial office. The removal of the tariff would not give the people cheaper lumber, the only party to derive any benefit from such a course being the Provincial Government. In this connection we desire to call the attention of the Commercial to the remarks of the free trade United States Consul at Ottawa, who in an interview published in the Boston Herald, said:

The opinion which I shall give you as my own personal view is shared by nearly every Canadian lumberman with whom I have conversed. I unhesitatingly say that the American consumer will not reap one iota of benefit from the taking of the duty off lumber. The first party to be benefited would be the Canadian lumbermen. His benefit, however, would be of short duration, as the necessities and inclinations of the Provincial government, which controls the standing timber, are such that * * * they would soon absorb the increased percentage of profit that they found the manufacturer was getting out of his timber."

The Commercial has declared that free lumber would be "a gratuitous injustice to our people" and it told the truth. It is now trying to hedge, but we desire it to define its position squarely if it has sufficient courage. Is it or is it not in favor of free lumber? It has talked on both sides of the question, now let it declare its position honestly.

CHICAGO CONVENTION.

WEST VIRGINIA FOR BLAINE.—SHERMAN, HARRISON AND GRESHAM NEXT IN FAVOR WITH THE DELEGATION.

The West Virginia delegation started for Chicago in a blaze of glory. Two thousand people assembled at the depot, and, as the long train of gorgeously decorated parlor cars pulled out hundreds of rockets and Roman candles were set off, while the sky was illuminated with colored fire. The delegation was accompanied by a contingent of 500 of the leading Republicans of the State. The first choice of nearly the entire delegation is Blaine if his name is put up in the Convention; otherwise the votes will be divided between Sherman, Harrison and Gresham. They are instructed for Goff for second place. His name will be presented to the Convention by Hon. W. P. Hubbard, one of the best orators of the South.

EXCESSIVE CLAIMS FOR SHERMAN.

The general claims made by Sherman's friends are startling enough, but they don't bear analysis. The scheme of his supporters has been steadily worked to make it appear that his nomination is inevitable, and some of those who want to be on the successful side before anything else have been influenced by it, but those who study the situation carefully do not believe it possible that a candidate can be nominated who is opposed with practical unanimity by the whole Pacific coast, by New England and by New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana. Certainly, if the doubtful states are consulted Sherman would have no chance whatever. On the other hand, it cannot be denied that the Sherman support in the South is coming well up to the Sherman calculation and it amounts to more than two-thirds of the votes claimed for the Ohio man.

DEPEW A PRESIDENT MAKER—HE MAY NOMINATE HIMSELF OR MAY TURN IN FOR MR. BLAINE.

Chauncey M. Depew is the President maker of this Convention. He will name the candidate. He may name himself; he may name Mr. Blaine. The chances to-night are largely in favor of his keeping his selection within a narrow limit of two. There is only one candidacy with the strength to seriously menace the success of a move toward Blaine, and even that could embarrass it only with the aid of ex-Senator Platt, who, though heretofore outspoken for Blaine, has began to figure in other directions. If he should throw the New York vote he controls to Sherman, nothing could stand in the way of the latter's nomination. There are suspicious hints among the inner circle of leaders that Platt has been coquetting with Senator Quay, who is Sherman's chief lieutenant, and that a conference was held after midnight last night at Senator Farwell's house, at which the feasibility of delivering twenty-five or thirty New York votes to the Ohio candidate was discussed. This is denied with vigor by the Platt lieutenants, but the report remains, and it is corroborated by outcroppings in several directions that Mr. Platt and Senator Hiscock are together in an effort to land as many New York delegates as they can control in the lap of a candidate of Platt's picking as opposed to one of Depew's choice, except Mr. Blaine.

CALIFORNIA'S INSISTENCE ON BLAINE.

Connecticut and New Jersey are strongly inclined to Harrison and are, in fact, practically ready to vote for him if they can be assured that his record on the Chinese question will not kill him on the Pacific coast. They have been making inquiries to that end, but have not done enough to fully determine the question. The California people are unwilling to say much about anybody but Blaine. They are really untamable on this subject.

JUDGE SHELLABARGER AND GEORGE A. HALSEY FIND A STRONG UNDERCURRENT FOR BLAINE.

Judge Samuel Shellabarger is here as the contesting delegate from the District of Columbia, against Perry Carson. He is in favor of the nomination of Senator Sherman under existing circumstances, although his friendship for Mr. Blaine would doubtless have led him to exert his influence in the direction of the latter, had Mr. Blaine appeared as a candidate.

"I might say that so far as the selection of a candidate is concerned, it seems to me that there is an undercurrent of much strength which favors the nomination of Mr. Blaine. I encounter it every now and then, and I find the belief to be general that in the event of a deadlock, the mention of Mr. Blaine's name would result in a unanimous nomination. That is the way the situation impresses me, so far as I have been able to judge.

George A. Halsey, of New Jersey, a delegate from that State arrived this morning on his return from the Pacific Coast, which he has been visiting. He expressed himself as greatly confused over the situation as he found it here.

"I believe," he said, "that whatever choice shall prove satisfactory to New York will be acceptable to New Jersey. I found a strong Blaine sentiment in the Pacific States, and they do not seem inclined to listen to anyother name out there."

NECESSARY FOR A CHOICE.

The man who gets the nomination at Chicago will probably need 417 votes. The National Committee has decided to treat Dakota and Washington as if their claims to Statehood had been recognized by Congress. Instead of two delegates each, they will have ten and six respectively, making in all 832 members of the Convention.

AFTER GRESHAM, WHO?

Much interest attaches to the attitude which will be taken by Illinois after the retirement of Judge Gresham. That he will be dropped out of the fight at an early hour in the balloting the most experienced political observers are thoroughly convinced. What, then, will become of the vote of Illinois? Three influences are at work to secure the delegation, by means of which it is hoped to turn the scale for the candidate who may prove successful. Sherman has a considerable following in the delegation, and has secured the services of one of Gen. Logan's most efficient lieutenants, "Long" Jones, for a considerable period United States Marshal for the Northern District of Illinois. Alger has a good deal of support among the old soldiers, who were so enthusiastic for Logan. Senator Cullom himself has great many friends, particularly outside of the city of Chicago. The State of Illinois is divided politically very much the same as New York is, there being the same antagonism between the so-called country and the city delegates. It is among the country delegates that Senator Cullom is strong, and many of his friends are quite ready to bring his name forward as a dark horse in the event that the present candidate of Illinois, Judge Gresham, shall be withdrawn and the delegation left to its own choice.

Something New —IN— DECORATIVE ART.

Having acquired the proprietorship of a new and beautiful process of decorating walls, panels, ceilings, pottery, or in fact, any surface desired, I now desire to extend the practice of the method, and to that end am prepared to sell rights for Bangor, Brewer and Orrington. The work is extremely simple and can readily be done by any intelligent person. This is an exceptionable opportunity for bright young men desiring an employment once light, pleasant and profitable. I will instruct any person purchasing the exclusive right for any of the towns mentioned, so that they may go to teaching and selling individual rights at once. The work is exceedingly inexpensive, and its beauty, together with its manifest superiority over any other paint, recommends it at once. Those interested and the public generally, can see samples of the work at 75 Pickering square.

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION.

... Organization ...ected.

Placing of Speech by Chairman Thurston.

Allusions to Blaine Bring the Delegates to Their Feet,

...Wildly for the Man of ...ine.

General Fremont Presented to the Convention.

Tremendous Blaine Demonstration Monday Night.

An Immense Impromptu Procession with Bands and Banners.

The First Ballot and what Will Show It.

CHICAGO, Illinois, June 19. When ... Jones of the National Republican Committee, ascended the platform of the great auditorium hall at noon, to call the convention to order he looked upon a ... unparalleled in the history of public gatherings in this country. Every part of the building can be seen without effort ... an audience of not less than 10,000 ... to be almost a countless multitude. The stage stretches from side to side of the hall and accommodates in addition to the President's platform several hundred ... paper representatives. The decoration ... or rather bewildering at first. ... walls, ceiling, and every post, pillar ... are covered with flags, bunting ... streamers in varied designs and colors. The Boston Home Market Club has ... a magnificent banner five feet ... behind the stage and it proudly ... bearing in letters of gold upon a ... of blue the sentiments which appear uppermost in the minds of the delegates. The banner is inscribed "Home Market Club of Boston, 'American ... for American working men,' 'American ... for American people,' 'Protection for American homes.'" This banner is noticed by delegates as they come to the galleries and balconies. It is ... after time.

Opening of the Convention

The ... were not opened until all of the ... arrangements were completed and the crowd was kept waiting, while two large bouquets of cut flowers ... were being placed upon the Chairman's desk. It bears in Greek letters this inscription: James A. Garfield was nominated from this desk in 1880 and James G. Blaine was nominated from the same desk 1884.

The Convention was called to order at ... by Chairman Jones of the National Committee. Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus offered prayer.

The Call for the Convention

... was read by Secretary Fessenden. ... reference to the tariff to the protection of American labor to the accumulation of the surplus the demand for a free ballot and a fair count and the admission of the Territories were all loudly cheered, especially ... relating to the tariff.

When the reading was concluded Chairman Jones ... his address. He predicted success for the Republican party and said ... thanks to President Cleveland and his ... that they had thrown off their ... and declared themselves as a ... free trade.

The more ... the weaker grew his ... until the convention got into a ... diversion and the effort of the chairman was little better than dumb show ... to an incense breathing bouquet. ... understood to allude to the record ... Britain on protection and free trade ... to trace the growth of the tariff ... movement ... of the tariff controversy from the days of Jackson ... the days of Buchanan. Then he ... of the Republican party. He said the country still ... of laws passed by the Republican party and it still had a majority ... to protect the interests of the people.

He then introduced John M. Thurston ... temporary chairman, who was received ... applause.

Speech of Chairman Thurston

After thanking the Convention, not for himself but for that great and growing ... which never disappoints the expectations of the Republican party he said:

... from a State whose vast domain ... largely appropriated by surviving ... of the Army of the Republic, under the ... provisions of the Homestead and Preemption laws enacted by a ... Congress, and true to the ... of the past, the homes ... of the West still march on under the banner of Republicanism. In victory ... defeat, in sunshine and storm, ... and adversity, this mighty West ... the courage of its convictions and ... that devotion to principle, though it ... that is better than success ... broken vows and political dis...

We are in National Convention for ... and conference. The Republican party of the United States relies upon the wisdom of its assembled delegates ... will ensure success. If ... prepared to honestly and fairly ... supreme issues of the hour with of principles, and to nominate a ticket which will commend itself to the loyalty and intelligence of the country, we can ... grandly.

We enter upon the proceedings of this session prepared to sacrifice individual ... to the wisdom of the majority ... to lay down personal preference on the altar of party success. When our candidates are chosen we will all join with ... and soul in a grand chorus of rejoicing and the rainbow of our harmony shall give certain promise of the glory of a glorious morning in November.

When the Democratic party at the close of the last Presidential election robbed us of a victory honestly and fairly won we patiently waited for the certain coming of the justice of the years. We hoped and believed that 1888 would right the great national wrong of 1884. Right it not only for the Republican party but for the ...

whose names were the inspiration of that wonderful campaign. The infinite wisdom of an all-wise Providence has otherwise decreed.

One of them, the citizen soldier, the warrior statesman, the Black Eagle of Illinois, has been summoned by the silent messenger to report to his old commander beyond the river, but although John A. Logan is dead in the body he lives again in the illuminated pages of his country's most splendid history.

The other, that gallant leader, the chevalier of American politics, the glory of Republicanism, the nightmare of Democracy, our Henry of Navarre, is seeking in foreign travel the long needed relaxation and rest from the wearisome burdens of public life and service. With the sublime magnanimity of his incomparable greatness, he has denied us the infinite pleasure of supporting him in this convention. Desiring above all things party harmony and success, he has stepped from the certain ladder of his own laudable ambition that some other man may climb to power. As his true friends we cannot, dare not commit the political crime of disobedience to his expressed will. We cannot place him at the head of the ticket, but we will make him commander-in-chief, at the head of the forces in the field, and, though J. G. Blaine may not be our President, yet he wielding the baton of acknowledged leadership, supreme in allegiance of his devoted followers, honored, and respected by all honest and loyal men, the greatest living American and the worthy object of our undying love.

But the Republican party is not left without great men to place upon its ticket. We have that honest, able, and experienced Councilor, statesman and Senator from Ohio and his no less distinguished colleague from Iowa. Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin present to us gallant soldiers, while New York, New Jersey, Kansas, Connecticut and other States offer worthy and favorite sons. From this splendid galaxy of political stars we cannot choose amiss.

The Republican party points with pride to the great achievements of its past and offers as an earnest of its future faithfulness an unbroken record of services performed for freedom, Union and National prosperity. It is pre-eminently the party of protection. It was born of an

the slave from the lash of the master and to save our civilization from the blighting curse of its crime against humanity and it performed the sacred mission of protecting the Republic from secession and disunion, and in a later time it succeeded in protecting the credit and currency of the Nation from repudiation and inflation.

Its platform epitomized stands for the protection of popular government on the American continent, it stands for the protection of all governmental and international rights from restriction or invasion, it stands for the protection of the life, liberty and property of the individual; it stands for the protection of all immunities and privileges of American citizenship, it stands for the protection of the ballot box from the crimes of intimidation and robbery, it stands for the protection of home invention, home skill and home labor against which would pauperize and degrade them all, it stands for the protection of the people from unjust and oppressive exaction and the combination of aggregated capital and corporative power, its stands also for the protection of both capital and corporation from confiscation and mob violence, and above all it stands for the protection of the sanctity and happiness of the American home. It welcomes to our shores the down trodden and oppressed of every land, but it insists that the inestimable blessing of American citizenship, purchased with the priceless blood of our heroes and martyrs, shall be extended to those only who are in sympathy and accord with the fundamental principles of our government and who will loyally support the sacred provisions of the Constitution of the United States and it holds that Congress has power to save American civilization and morality from the leprosy of Asiatic paganism, degradation and contagion. It maintains that the nation should extend to all true lovers of liberty, but it demands that the law of the land shall be ... to those only who obey it and that the Anarchist, communist and the criminal American ... nothing ... the sword.

The reconstructed Democracy has ... been in power nearly four years. Its administration is most ... to the ... who hold office under it, ... received the approval of ... the government, the course of its foreign policy has aroused the ... every coward, its civil service has been so thoroughly reformed as to delight Mr. Higgins, its justice to disabled soldiers has won golden opinions from those who gave them their wounds, its financial management has been safe because of its inability to destroy the resulting prosperity of Republican legislation and its unparalleled straddle of the tariff question has been a source of wonderment to gods and men. It is strong in the imbecility of innocuous desuetude.

The Mission of the Republican Party is not ended. The work of the Republican party will never be done until every American enters into unquestioned inheritance of liberty, equal rights and justice, until representation in Congress is based upon votes freely cast and fairly counted, until adequate provision has been made for the helplessness and old age of the disabled veterans and widows and orphans of their dead comrades, until those policies of government which ensure national and individual prosperity are firmly established, and until patriotism and loyalty are the only qualifications except fitness, for official position in the service of the Republic.

The Republican party longs and prays for the coming of the Millennium of its hope, when in spirit and in truth Mason and Dixon's line will be blotted out forever, when fraternal ties and common interests unite us all, but when that glad time comes black and white must march side by side in the broad sunshine of ... and lie down to peaceful slumber in the untroubled ...

Shadows of Protected Homes

The Republican party turns to the New South with wide open arms, it offers loyal assistance in its development.

The great issue of the present campaign is that of the tariff. To the support of a protective tariff there will rise up an overwhelming army of intelligent thoughtful and practical men, and the East, West, North and South will join hands together to forever exterminate in this Republic the pernicious doctrine of free trade.

We remember that other great convention held in this city in 1860, we remember how it was inspired with the wisdom and courage to select that great man of the people, that Moses who led us through the parted waters of the sea, past the wilderness of battle, over the Jordan of safety into the promised land. In 1884 we were driven back into the wilderness again. God give u[s] who can limit our wandering to four years instead of forty.

Let us read the lessons of the mighty past rightly and hold its precepts dear. When Robert Bruce, King of Scotland, lay upon his dying bed, he requested that his heart should be taken from his inanimate body and borne by knightly hands to the Saviour's sepulchre. After his death James, Earl of Douglas, undertook the sacred mission and with the heart encased in a golden casket set out upon his pilgrimage to the Holy Land. On the way thither himself and comrades were set upon by a host of Moorish warriors, and though they fought with all the valor of mortal men, they were borne backward by sheer force of numbers and their overthrow seemed certain. Douglas drawing from his bosom the priceless casket cast it far out into the midst of the oncoming host and cried out

"Lead on, Heart of Bruce,

we follow thee," and the Knights of Scotland, never defeated while following a Bruce, pushed forward and won the day. Let this convention find a Douglas for our Bruce. He will take the soul of our great leader into the golden casket of his love and with it lead us on to certain and splendid victory.

When Mr. Thurston referred to Sherman as the possible choice of the convention there were cries of "no, no," with a very substantial round of applause. His reference to Blaine carried the convention by storm, the delegates all standing and hurrahing wildly for Blaine.

When the Different Candidates were named by the speaker Sherman and Allison received the weight of the applause, but it was noticed that he refrained from mentioning the name of the Soldier Judge of Illinois. When he classed the Anarchist with the criminal, there were expressions of applause, but when he said that the Administration had "for four years performed its duties with satisfaction," the audience sat dumb and surprised until he added, "to its office holders."

After Mr. Thurston's speech, and silence had been restored the rest of the roll of temporary officers was received.

This failed to be submitted to the convention for ratification but no objection was made to this course.

A Gavel Presented

"Mr. Chairman," said ex-Congressman Horr, but at that moment the Chairman pushed the electric button, the band struck up a medley of national airs and Mr. Horr stepped back into his seat. When the music had ceased Mr. Horr was recognized. He wanted in behalf of the Michigan delegation, to present to the Convention a gavel made out of wood from the Oak under which the Republican party was organized 1854, in Jackson, Michigan.

In accepting the gavel, Mr. Thurston said he would at once proceed to pound daylights out of the Democratic party.

The Temporary Officers

Mr. Root, of Arkansas, moved that the report on temporary officers be approved, but the chair stated that this had already been done by absence of objections. Mr. Root withdrew his motion.

Judge Moody, of Dakota, moved to give Dakota ten delegates. He was informed by the chair that the National Convention had already conceded what was asked for.

On motion of Gen. Bingham the rules of the House of Representatives were adopted, and a resolution of sympathy with Gen. Sheridan was adopted by a rising vote amid cheers.

A petition of

now in the city, that they be allowed 200 tickets of admission to the convention was presented. The chair ruled that the resolution would go to the Committee on Resolutions, but Mr. Lewis urged that the rules be suspended, and the request was granted.

Mr. Taft, of South Carolina, made a vigorous speech in favor of the suspension of the rules. The Democratic party, he said, was upon record as against the soldier, and the Republican party could not afford to act meanly in the matter.

Mr. Butterworth of Ohio, asked that the matter be left to the National Committee with instructions to see that the matter be adjusted and finally it was so referred.

The Roll Called for the Committees

Mr. George R. Davis, of Chicago, succeeded in getting the convention well on into the transaction of routine business by insisting on the call of the roll for the selection of the members of the various committees.

The call having been concluded unanimous consent was given to Chairman Green, of the Nebraska delegation to present Gen. John C. Fremont to the convention. Mr. Green with the voice and manner of a tragedian presented General Fremont. When the veteran came to the front most of the delegates got on their feet and the applause was general.

The Pathfinder Spoke

In a strong tone. He thanked the Convention for its reception. He expressed his regret at the absence of Mr. Blaine, who would have given us a distinctive American policy, and prophesied the success of the Republican party in November.

There were cries for Fred Douglass which finally swelled into such proportions that the colored orator could do no less than come to the platform. He would have bowed his thanks and retired but the audience insisted on a speech and so with a word of apology, he said the Democrats had one good quality, they were faithful to their friends.

The Colored Race,

he said had been a good friend to the Republicans and they should be remembered in the platform. Stripped of their constitutional rights they should be remembered by the candidate who was finally nominated. The party should not be dissuaded by the cry of "Bloody shirt" from doing justice to the colored race. That shirt should wave as long as there was a stain upon it. He spoke in behalf of the millions of his race. Mr. Douglass retired and nine-tenths of the Convention cried for Ingersoll but if Mr. Ingersoll was in the hall he refused to show himself and the shouters turned their attention to Gov. Foraker who got upon his feet.

New England Committeemen

He simply moved that the roll of committee ... be read for verification by the Secretary.

Among those appointed on committees are Maine—Credentials, Fred H. Powers, Permanent Organization, G. A. Wilson, Resolutions, C. A. Prescott, New Hampshire—Credentials, Hiram A. Tuttle, Permanent Organization, Ed A. Gilman, Resolutions A. P. Batchelder, Vermont—Credentials, A. C. Ide, Permanent Organization, C. W. Reed, Resolutions Mr. Plumley.

It was stated that of twenty four delegates from Virginia all but four were disputed cases.

The Virginia Delegation

A long and acrimonious debate took place between Messrs Wise and Mahone in relation to placing any one from either of the contesting delegations upon the various committees, and it was participated in by Mr. Hoar and others and after various motions had been made the whole matter was laid upon the table on a viva voce vote by a large majority.

Some routine business was transacted and it was proposed that when an adjournment was taken it shall be till 10 o'clock in the morning.

Gov. Foraker who knew the temper of the convention amended the motion so as to provide that the adjournment be till 12 o'clock to-morrow.

This amendment was accepted with alacrity, and at 3.30 the convention adjourned.

Remarkable Enthusiasm Manifested for Mr Blaine

The streets of this city presented an extraordinary spectacle Monday night, and one which is without parallel in American politics of this generation at least. There are seven or more candidates to be presented by their own desires to the National Republican Convention. One of them, Judge Gresham, is a resident of Chicago, and according to reports which have been coming from this city for several weeks, the whole population is enthusiastic in his behalf and insist, as one man, on his nomination. Those who watched the streets, however, certainly did not gain any such impression. In fact, save that one or two bands have marched in the interests of one or two candidates and have been followed by small clubs, and have seemed to earn their money in a dignified and formal fashion, every street has been of bands and organizations of every sort and citizens on foot and in carriages bearing banners of all descriptions, and upon all of them plainly legible somewhere was the portrait or name of James G. Blaine. There was an Irish American club from Chicago, a flambeau club from Kansas, a large number wearing the white plume and the Blaine badge from Nebraska, a whole delegation from California, and parts of delegations from many other States, marching for hours together, keeping step to the loyal music of the Union and shouting as only earnest men do shout for James G. Blaine of Maine. This demonstration was without organization. It unquestionably was spontaneous. It represents the enthusiasm of large masses of the people, who cling to Blaine with greater tenacity even than the followers of Henry Clay did to their fallen idol.

This Demonstration is not Without Significance

It shows that the enthusiasm claimed for Mr. Blaine exists. This was the unrestrained enthusiasm of young men. There were none of the older leaders in the crowds which thronged the streets. The older leaders, on the contrary, who have managed Blaine's campaigns in former years, are closeted to-night, consulting whether this unrestrained enthusiasm for Blaine can be kept within bounds inside the convention hall. It is plain that it cannot be outside. The subject now being considered by the old Blaine leaders is how the delegations which insist that under all circumstances they will put Mr. Blaine in nomination can be restrained.

The Outlook for the First Ballot.

An intelligent estimate of the first ballot shows 11 candidates with votes about as follows:

Sherman 250; Gresham 100; Depew 100; Alger 80; Harrison 120; Allison 50; Phelps 18; Rusk 22; Ingalls 14; Fitler 15; Stanford 10.

This leaves 35 votes to account for. Missouri and Arkansas are still doubtful quantities.

It is believed that there will be no material change from this estimate for a ballot or two and it is thought the Convention will then adjourn over night. During that night some combinations may be made with a view to controlling the nomination next day.

At the Present Writing

the nomination of Depew appears impossible. After this has been demonstrated in the balloting Platt will probably call away his forces, numbering twenty to twenty five votes, and if a combination is formed throw them in. Miller is expected to throw his votes to Sherman. What Depew will do when the moment comes for abandoning his own candidacy is one of the mysteries of the hour. An intimate friend of Mr. Depew said to-night that if Depew cannot be nominated I look to see him rise and throw his votes to Mr. Blaine. Depew will be placed in nomination by Senator Hiscock. Just now one fact is well settled and that is the nomination of a soldier in one place or the other. This fact militates much against Allison, who is otherwise in a good position.

New England and New Jersey

are leaning toward Harrison and it is not impossible that he will ultimately be made the choice of the combination of men spoken of. If the nomination comes west it will probably go to Harrison or Gresham and the chances of the three men are in the order named. Phelps is almost certain to be named for Vice President if the nomination comes west and if Blaine or an eastern man is named Porter, of Indiana, or Alger will be taken. If Sherman is compelled to fall back Governor Foraker will be

and at the same time many of Sherman's supporters will go to Gresham. Senator Quay has a leaning toward Gresham and many Gresham men are inclined toward the Ohio Senator, if their man cannot be nominated.

The Gresham managers have a card to play in a break from Harrison in the Indiana delegation, where they control nearly one third of the votes.

The election of Estee as permanent Chairman is construed as a Blaine victory by outsiders, but is really the result of a trade by which California drops the Blaine boom.

Every lady in Bangor should call at Thompson & Kellogg's, Tuesday and Wednesday, and drink a glass of their delicious iced coffee. Then go home and make fathers, brothers, husband, sisters and mothers happy by serving them the same.

Thompson & Kellogg are serving delicious iced coffee free of charge. You are invited.

The best kind of temperance work is being performed by Thompson & Kellogg. Help them along by calling at their store and drinking free of expense a glass of delicious coffee.

A woman who is weak, nervous and sleepless and who has cold hands and feet, cannot feel and act like a well person. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness, and give strength and rest. d&w1s jel1

Usually something for nothing is not very valuable. But the delicious iced coffee Thompson & Kellogg are serving free of charge, is an exception to this rule.

The well known strengthening properties of Iron, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion. d&w1w jel1

When you are down town drop into Thompson & Kellogg's and drink a glass of delicious Iced Coffee served free.

PROF. HUXLEY ON THE MORALS OF HEALTH.

Prof. Huxley has predicted that the time will come when it will be a reproach to be sick. When one friend meets another he will as soon ask "Are you honest?" as "Are you well?" for a man will be considered foolish, not to say criminal, who gets sick. Such a state of public feeling will sometime be brought about. Certainly it is true that the morals of health are receiving more and more attention. A greatly increasing number of people every year prevent the development of all blood, pulmonary and liver diseases. This is proved by the enormously increased use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which nips all such ailments in the bud. june19 d&w1w

Take a Drink! What? Iced Coffee. When! To-day! Where? At Thompson & Kellogg's.

Don't miss the Coffee Festival at Thompson & Kellogg. They expect you to call and drink a glass of delicious iced coffee.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," so they all say, and their husbands say so too! june14 d&w1w

A pedestrian party was made up yesterday by 15 of the Italians who have been sojourning in this city, and they started over the railroad sleepers for New York. They did not have the wherewithal to purchase a railroad ticket and consequently took the cheaper method of travelling.

The appointments for the Junior prize exhibition at Colby are as follows: Burbank, Burleigh, Megquier, Nye, Owen, Woods, Wyman, Misses Bunker and Parmenter. Two were appointed for general scholarship, three for general excellence in rhetorical work, and four for merit of the article.

Capt. Richardson Gray, who has just died at Pittsburg, left $5,000 to the local Y. M. C. A., and the Y. M. C. A. at New Haven has just received a bequest of the same amount, in the will of the late George Gabriel. The association in this city is doing most encouraging work, and is deserving of being remembered in a like manner.

Mrs. W. F. Shaw, of this city, was to have sung at the concert last evening at the Institute, St. John, given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. The St. John Telegraph in its advance notice of the concert said "Mrs. Shaw is to sing two numbers, and this is sure to be doubled." Mrs. Shaw's singing is greatly appreciated in St. John.

Fishing is good at Moosehead Lake and large numbers of fishermen from different parts of the country are there. The Kineo House is having a big run of patronage for so early in the season. The work of painting the big hotel is progressing well, one coat having been nearly put on. The indications are that there will be a larger patronage than ever this summer.

The Hamlin Rifles will go to Hampden on the Fourth of July and with the Crosby Guards will have a day in camp in preparation for the coming muster. The two companies will drill and conform as far as possible to the regulations of muster. Col. Brett and staff will take part in the exercises. It will be a profitable and pleasant exercise for the two companies.

Our Orono correspondent writes: Mr. William Philbrook, of Maine State College '88, who was united by marriage to Miss Louisa O'Lary, of New York City, June 17th, arrived in Orono, with his bride, last Monday evening. Mr. Philbrook is one of the finest young men at the college, and we take pleasure in announcing the nuptials and wishing him and his fair bride a most happy future.

Mr. T. F. Canfield of this city, has received the appointment of head clerk in the Boston and Bangor Mail Service in the place of Mr. A. Sellon, who has been removed.

Delicious iced coffee is served at the store of Thompson & Kellogg on Central street, and the refreshing drink is ably dispensed by Messrs John Moriarty, agent of Chase & Sanborn, and Walter B. Douse. The coffee is the concentrated Java, and all who partook of the mixture of coffee, cream and ice, yesterday, unite in saying that it is a most delicious drink.

The Freshmen at Colby will have their class supper at the Bangor House in this city, on Friday evening the 29th, at 9.30. A fine menu will be prepared for them. The post prandial exercises will consist of toasts, a poem, speeches, etc., and the occasion will undoubtedly be a very pleasant one for the members of the class who are soon to shed their verdancy and enter upon the true sophomoric dignity.

A young man named Smith was arrested yesterday morning by Officer Barnes for stealing an overcoat at the Preble House, Haymarket Square, late Saturday night. He entered the room of one of the guests at the house and appropriated his coat and the next day went to the Merchants' Hotel, where his valise was searched. The coat was found in it. He was given sixty days in jail in the Municipal Court yesterday afternoon.

Captain Horace Atwood of Hampden, has purchased a new steamer which was built at Camden, and will at once fit her up to run as a pleasure boat on the river. She will be brought to this city and an awning put over her and some other improvements will be added. She is somewhat larger than the Isma and will carry forty passengers. She will be a valuable addition to the already large fleet of boats that ply on our river.

One of our wheelmen was propelling his bicycle Monday along the street with his customary ease and grace when he saw a young lady with whom he was acquainted sitting upon the front door steps. As he gallantly raised his hat, either the shock of meeting the fair one, the sudden ... of gravitation, or both brought about a most inglorious header. He boarded his machine again however without serious damage and mind the ... of his mishap.

The Seniors at the High School are having their senior vacation this week. Those who had graduating parts had a rehearsal yesterday afternoon in the Opera House, and the indications are that the graduating exercises of the class of '88 will be fully equal to those of former years. They will occur next Monday afternoon. The diplomas have been prepared by City Clerk Brett with his usual skill in the use of the pen and present a very fine appearance.

FISH. Blue fish are just coming into New York, near which place they are now being taken by the fishermen and ... is expected in this city to-day. They will work their way along the coast in a northern direction, and it is expected that a good catch will be made. Halibut are scarce in the markets in this city at present. Shad are having their last run and none are now being taken on the Kennebec. Those that are in the markets in this city now are obtained from Boston. Cod and other kinds of fish sold here are quite plenty, and sell at the usual prices.

PAST EMINENT COMMANDERS' JEWELS. We understand that the committee appointed by St. John's Commandery to procure jewels for the Past Eminent Commanders have accepted the jewels and they will be presented this evening, Past Eminent Commanders and their ladies being present. The jewels are perfectly satisfactory and their value is from $75 to $100 apiece. They are now on exhibition in the window of the store of Mr. John Tibbetts where they are greatly admired by all who see them. The workmanship is very fine and reflects much credit upon the skill of Mr. Tibbetts. The jewels have already been described in THE WHIG.

BAR HARBOR NOTES. During the severe storm and gale last winter the pier at Hancock Point was swept away and now the denizens of that point are obliged to drive or row from Mount Desert Ferry.——The sardine factory still flourishes at the landing in Lamoine, and seems quite as persistent as the lobster canning factory used to be at South West Harbor. But lobsters and sardines must be canned, even if the process mars the beauty of a fine summer resort.——During the months when mails are heavy at Bar Harbor an assorting clerk is to be sent to Ellsworth for the purpose of boarding the mail car and separating the hotel and box letters from the general mail before it arrives there, thus greatly facilitating its distribution and lightening the arduous duties of the overworked post office clerks.——The Bar Harbor Tourist will be issued for the first time this season as a daily commencing about July 1.

NATIONALS VS MAINE CENTRAL INSTITUTE. The Nationals were beaten on Monday at St. John by the Maine Central Institute team of Pittsfield, by a score of 11 to 6. The game was close and exciting up to the eighth inning, when the M. C. I's by heavy batting and errors got six men over the plate, winning the game easily. Christie and Whitenect were the Nationals battery and Shaw and Sanborn the M. C. I's. The following is a summary of the game: Base hits—M. C. I's, 13, total 18, Nationals, 6, total, 7. Earned run—Libby. Two base hits—Graves. Three base hits—Parsons, Sanborn. First base on called balls—Pittsfield, 5, Nationals, 3. Hit by pitched ball—Sanborn, Kennedy. Wild pitches—Christie, 3. Passed balls—Whitenect, 3. Struck out—by Shaw, 3, by Christie, 6. Left on bases—Pittsfields, 10; Nationals, 7. Flies caught—by Pittsfields, 7, Nationals, 9. Time of game—2 hours, 5 minutes. Umpire—Mr. Morton L. Harrison. The second game was to have been played yesterday afternoon.

VESSEL ITEMS. The schooner M. L. Crockett while beating down river yesterday forenoon misstayed and ran into the McLaughlin wharf at High Head. The bowsprit and head gear were carried away. She now lies at High Head, and will be repaired at once.——The schooner William H. Allison has arrived in this city to be loaded with ice at the Katahdin Company's ice house, with a cargo for Richmond, Virginia.——The schooner Amelia F. Cobb is being loaded at High Head with pig iron by Mr. Henry McLaughlin for Wilmington, Del. She will probably sail to-day.——Mr. Edward Angley and his crew of riggers will soon begin work upon the brig Cora Green, changing her into a schooner.——The four masted schooner Clara Goodwin as soon as she discharges her cargo of coal for the Maine Central, will be loaded with ice at the Katahdin Company's house for Philadelphia.——The schooner Mary Jane has had a new jibboom put in at Tewksbury's shipyard.——William Carlton, formerly mate of the Mary Ann McCann will command her.

Dr. W. H. Simmons landed a ten pound salmon, below the water works, last evening.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Simmons and Mr. George Cutler enjoyed the rare sport of "shooting" the sluice at the dam in a canoe.

Mr. J. R. Coulton, the well known bicyclist, has returned to this city after an absence of several months in California and other western States.

Mr. John O'Connell, foreman of Captain Elijah Low's crew which is at work upon Bowman Block, has been at work for him for forty nine years. He is an excellent workman and his long retention in Captain Low's service shows the appreciation in which he is held. Probably the parallel in length of service cannot be found in the State, if even in New England or the country.

Bangor Canton Patriarchs Militant will meet at their hall this morning at 6.30 o'clock and, escorted by the Bangor Band, leave the hall at 7 o'clock to take the regular train for Dover at 7.25. The programme of the exercises attendant upon the dedication of the new Odd Fellows Hall has already been published in THE WHIG. The arrangements that have been made indicate a very fine time.

Workmen are now engaged in laying new sleepers and distributing sand over the line of the Bar Harbor branch putting it in the best of order for the season's travel. The trains over the road are now carrying quite a large number of tourists to that resort, and the heavy travel will soon begin. The season at Bar Harbor is expected to be the liveliest for years. All of the hotels will be open by the last of the month.

A crew of workmen has begun grading the street on the east side of the Maine Central depot in order to put it upon a level with the depot platform. One coat of whitewash has been put upon the ceiling of the depot and another will soon be spread. The baggage and express rooms have been completed and workmen are now engaged on the third track and platform. It is expected that the whole work upon the depot will be completed by the 25th, when the change of time goes into effect.

Dover and Foxcroft will celebrate the Fourth of July, and the exercises will consist of a fine turnout of antiques and horribles in the morning with bell ringing at sunrise, noon and sunset, a grand parade of civic and military bodies, including the two fire companies with one and possibly two bands of music, a grand display of the water works, a horse trot, base ball game, canoe race on the river between Old Town Indians, a play at Central Hall and a brilliant display of fireworks in the evening with band concerts at each end of the town.

In addition to the programme of the pilgrimage of St. John's Commandery announced in THE WHIG, the Commandery will be finely entertained by the Lewiston Commandery at the Poland Springs House and on the return, they will be the guests of St. Alban Commandery at Portland on the afternoon of the 25th. The departure from Portland will be taken at 5.45 p. m. A special train will be taken at Waterville and the Commandery will arrive home at 1.30. It is expected that a large number of the Sir Knights with their ladies will take part in the pilgrimage.

The M. S. C.'s will go to Waterville to-day and play the last game of the college schedule this afternoon with the Colbys. A large number of the Maine State College students will accompany their nine to cheer them on to victory. The Bates and Bowdoins will also play to-day at Lewiston. The games to-day will be the last of the scheduled games. If the M. S. C.s win to-day, and there is no doubt but that they will, they take the pennant but if they lose and Bowdoin wins, these two teams will be tied for first place. Colby will take third position and Bates will bring up the rear.

Mr. Norris W. Whitman, of Abbott and Miss Grace S. Dowaling of Hudson, were united in marriage yesterday morning at half past ten o'clock at the residence of the groom's father, Mr. Nathan Whitman, on Prospect street, in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. G. Eastman, of Appo... a friend of the family. Mr. W. F. Bragg acted as best man and Miss Josie F. Sleeper, as bridesmaid. Many beautiful and useful presents were received. They left on the noon train for Abbott, where Mr. Whitman is successfully engaged in business.

NARROW ESCAPE. Monday evening, the Bar Harbor train after leaving the station in this city and when at the head of Hancock street, passed over a little girl about two years of age, named Dealing whose parents reside on Boyd street, who was lying between the rails, and who was not observed until it was too late to stop the train. The engine and six cars passed over the little child, but strange to say the only injuries which she received were slight cuts on the forehead and nose. The train was stopped as soon as possible and the child taken up and carried to her home. It was a narrow escape, and it was a great wonder that the child was not killed.

COMPLIMENTARY ENTERTAINMENT. The last sociable and entertainment of the season in connection with the Young People's Association of the Hammond street church occurred last evening in the vestry and was largely attended. The following pleasing programme was given: Quartette, "'Twas on a Bank of Daisies," Miss Semple, Mrs Gardner, Mr Gordon and Mr Farrington, autoharp solo, Miss May Silsby, song, "You," Miss Annie Semple, whistling solo, Miss Tena Gerrish, duet "Tuscan Folk Song," Miss Semple and Mrs Gardner, cornet solo, "Facilita," Mr E. C. Adams; song, "The Fisherboy," Mrs W. H. Gardner, whistling solo, Miss Tena Gerrish, quartette, "Glorious Spring," Miss Semple, Mrs Gardner, Mr. Gordon and Mr Farrington. All of the selections were excellently rendered and the programme was a very entertaining one. Miss Katie Perkins accompanied Miss Gerrish's solos and Miss Silsby the other selections. At the close of the programme delicious refreshments were served, after which a pleasant half hour was passed in social conversation.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Two Vagabonds

The Boston artists who are to assist in the coming presentation of "The Two Vagabonds," will arrive to-day on the steamer Penobscot. Full stage rehearsals will be held at the Opera House this and to-morrow evenings. The managers are very fortunate in securing this talent, and would not be able to do so in the season, as they would all be engaged with the different companies. It is unquestionably one of the best arrays of talent ever presented here in a performance of comic opera. With all this attraction, the tickets are offered at popular prices, and this liberality of the managers should be rewarded by a patronage which will fill every seat in the Opera House.

OBITUARY.

Mr Daniel Emerson

Mr Daniel Emerson, who died in Garland, May 10, 1888, was aged sixty years and three months. Mr Emerson was highly respected by all who knew him, was a devoted Christian, an affectionate husband and a kind father. He was a member of the Oriental Lodge No 60, I. O. O. F., also a member of the G. A. R. Post, of Bradford. He leaves one son, Dr. F. A. C. Emerson, two brothers, two sisters and many friends to mourn his loss.

OVER THE BORDER.

By WALTER BESANT.

Another thing he observed: that while the husband talked in his confident and braggart way, the wife, who was a thin woman, sat silent and sometimes sighed. Why did she sigh? Did she want to live on in obscurity? Had she no ambition?

Then the merchant had filled and lit a pipe of tobacco, and proceeded to tell Ralph how he would have to begin upon this ambitious career in search of a fortune. First, he would have to be an apprentice "I was myself," said Mr Hotherington, "an apprentice, though who would think it now?" As an apprentice he would sweep and clean out the shop, open it in the morning, and shut it at night, wait upon the customers all day, run errands, obey dutifully his master, learn the business, watch his master's interests, behave with respect to his betters, show zeal in the dispatch of work, get no holidays or playtime, never see the green fields except on Good Fridays, take for meals what might be given him, which would certainly not be slices off the sirloin, and sleep under the counter at night. In short, the shop would be his workroom, his parlor, his eating room, and his bedroom.

The boy listened to his instructions with dismay. Was this the road to fortune? Was he to become a slave for some years? But—after? His apprenticeship finished, it appeared that he might, if he could find money, open a shop and become a master. But most young men, he learned, found it necessary to remain in the employment of their masters for some years, and in some cases for the whole term of their natural lives.

He did not consider that he had already such a fortune as would, if laid out with judgment, enable him to open a shop or to buy a partnership. He forgot at the time that he was the owner of Merwick Mill. It seemed to him, being so young and inexperienced, that he had run away from his inheritance, and abandoned it to Mathew. He, too, might therefore have to remain in a master's employment. This was fine fortune, truly, to be a servant all your days. And the boy began already even to regret his cousin Mathew's blows and Barbara's cruel tongue.

His pipe finished, the merchant remembered that at 8 his club would meet, and therefore left the lad with his wife.

"Boy," she leaned over the table and whispered eagerly as soon as her husband was gone, "have you come up to London without money to become a merchant?"

"Indeed, madame," he replied, "I know not what I may become."

"Then fly," she said, "go home again. Follow the plow, become a tinker, a tailor, a cobbler—anything that is honest. Trade is uncertain. For one who succeeds a dozen are broke, you know not, any moment, but that you also may break. Your fortune hangs upon a hundred chances. Alas! if one of these fail, there is the Fleet, or may be Newgate, or Marshalsea, or Whitecross Street, or the King's Bench, or the Clink—there are plenty of places for the bestowal of poor debtors—for yourself, and for your wife and innocent children ruin and starvation."

"Yet," said Ralph, "Mr Hetherington is not anxious."

"He leaves anxiety," she replied bitterly, "to his wife."

Then she became silent, and spoke no more to the boy, but sat with her lips working as one who conversed with herself. And from time to time she sighed as if her heart was breaking.

In the morning the merchant was up betimes, and began again upon the glories of the city.

"Art still of the same mind?" he asked. "Wilt thou be like Whittington and Gresham and me also one of those who climb the tree?"

Then Ralph confessed with a blush—which mattered nothing, so deep was the ruddy brown upon his cheek—that he found city honors dearly bought at the price of so much labor and continement.

"Then," said his adviser, in less friendly tones, "what will you do?"

Ralph asked if there was nothing that a young man may do besides work at a trade or sit in a shop.

"Why, truly, yea," Mr Hetherington replied with severity; "he may become a highwayman, and rob upon the road, taking their money from honest tradesmen and poor farmers—a gallant life indeed, and so he will presently hang in chains, or be anatomized and set up in Surgeon's Hall. There is the end of your fresh air for you."

"But, with respect, sir," Ralph persisted, "I mean in an honest way."

"If he is rich enough he may be a scholar of Cambridge, and so take orders, or he may become a physician, or a lawyer, or a schoolmaster, or a surgeon, and go to sea in his majesty's ships and lead a dog's life, or a soldier and go a-fighting"——

"Let me be a soldier," cried the boy.

"Why, why? But you must first get his majesty's commission, and to get this you must first beg for letters to my Lord This and my Lord That, and dangle about great houses, praying for their influence, and bribe the lackeys, and then perhaps you'll never get your commission after all."

This was discouraging.

"Rolling stones, lad," said the great merchant, "gather no moss. Better stand quiet behind the counter, sweep out the shop, serve customers and keep accounts, and perhaps some day be partner and grow rich."

But Ralph hung his head.

"Then how can I help thee, foolish boy? Yet, because I knew thy father, and for Drury's sake—— Stay, would you go to India?"

To India! Little, indeed, of the great doings in India reached the town of Warkworth. Yet Ralph had heard the vicar talking with Mr. Carnaby of Col. Clive and the famous battle of Plassy. To India! His eyes flashed.

"Yes, sir, I would willingly go to India."

"My worthy friend, Mr. Nathaniel Silvertop, is in the service of the company. Come, let us seek his counsel."

They walked, the boy being much astonished at the crowd, the noise, and the never ceasing business of the streets, down Cheapside, through the Poultry, past the new Mansion house and the Royal Exchange into Cornhill, where stands the honorable East India company's house, a plain, solid building, adorned with pillars of the doric order. Mr. Hetherington led the way into a great hall, where was already assembled a crowd of men who had favors to ask of the directors, and finding a servant he sent his name to Mr. Silvertop.

Presently, for nothing was done in undignified haste in this house, Mr. Silvertop himself—a gentleman of three score and of grave appearance—descended the stairs. To him Mr. Hetherington unfolded his business.

Here, he said, was a young fellow from Northumberland, heir to a small and pretty estate, but incumbered for three or four years to come with a guardian, whose affection he appeared to have unfortunately lost, so that it would be well for both to remain apart; but he was a young gentleman of roving tastes, who would fain see a little of the world, and—but this he whispered—a brave and bold fellow.

Mr. Silvertop regarded the lad attentively.

"Our writers," he said solemnly, "go out on small salaries. They seldom rise above £400 or £500 a year at the most. Yet—mark this, young gentleman—so great are their chances in India that they sometimes come home at 40, or even less, with £100,000—ay, £200,000. Think upon that, boy! So great a thing it is to serve this honorable company."

The boy's eyes showed no emotion. A dull dog, indeed, he seemed to Mr. Silvertop, not to tremble at the mere mention of so vast a sum.

"Leave him here, my good friend," said Mr. Silvertop. "I have business, but I will return and speak with him again. He can walk in the hall and wait."

Mr. Hetherington went his way and Ralph waited.

After an hour or so he saw Mr. Silvertop coming down the stairs again. He was escorting, or leading to the door, or in some way behaving in respectful and deferential fashion to a tall and splendid gentleman, brave in scarlet, wearing a sash and a sword and a gold laced hat. At the foot of the stairs, Mr. Silvertop bowed low to this gentleman, who joined a little group of gentlemen, some of them also in scarlet. He seemed to be the chief among them, for they all behaved to him with the greatest respect. Then Mr. Silvertop looked about in the crowd, and spying Ralph, beckoned him to draw near and speak with him.

"So," said Mr. Silvertop, "you are the lad. Yes, I remember." Ralph thought it strange that he should not remember, seeing that it was but an hour or two since Mr Silvertop had spoken last with him. "You are recommended by my friend Mr. Hotherington. Well, I know not—we are pestered with applications for our writerships. Every runaway—Ralph blushed—"every out at elbows younger son"—the great gentleman in scarlet, who was close at hand, here turned his head and looked at the lad with a little interest—"every poor curate's brat who can read and cipher wants to be sent to India."

"You cannot, sir," said the gentleman in scarlet, "send too many Englishmen to India. I would that the whole country was ruled by Englishmen—yet not by quill drivers."

He added the last words in a lower voice, yet Ralph heard them.

Mr. Silvertop bowed low, and turned again to the boy.

PIX LIQUIDA COMPOUND,

—OR—

PACKARD'S Tar, Bloodroot, and Wild Cherry

COUGH CURE.

The most popular Cough Remedies of the day are those which contain the drugs mentioned above, and this is so in spite of the unpleasant taste and the appearance which the Tar gives to them. Knowing this, we have endeavored to produce something in the form of a Syrup that should hold in solution the active ingredients of these balsamic curatives, and at the same time present an attractive appearance and agreeable taste. How perfectly we have succeeded, the medicine itself will attest. We defy the efforts of every manufacturer in the whole world to produce results superior to what we show you in this elegant compound of TAR, BLOODROOT AND WILD CHERRY, and

We Challenge Every Cough Cure in the Market

To Effect Greater Cures than this Has Done.

Especially in Croup, Bronchitis and Irritated Throats, caused by pulmonary even from the Catarrhal troubles. We realize the fact that no one remedy will meet the demands of all cases. Coughs arise from many causes, and require a proper diagnosis and the application of appropriate remedies that the best results may follow treatment, but there are very many people who suffer from Coughs that are not to be mistaken as to their origin, and may be safely treated by the sufferers themselves with remedies that resort only to safe remedies, the composition of which are KNOWN, and KNOWN to be HARMLESS, as well as POTENT. There is no secret about this remedy, except the process of making. It contains just what we tell you, and nothing more. And it is perfectly healthy to use, or in other words, it procures no results that are not good. All Cough remedies containing opiates derange the stomach. This Cough Syrup contains nothing but drugs which have a tendency to aid digestion.

Use it and be cured. Take it and you will be thankful for the pleasant results.

SORE FROM KNEE TO ANKLE.

Skin entirely gone. Flesh a mass of disease. Leg diminished one-third in size. Condition hopeless. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg from my knee down to my ankle; the skin was entirely gone, and the flesh was one mass of disease. Some physicians pronounced it incurable. It had diminished about one-third the size of the other, and I was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars, from which I got no relief whatever, I was persuaded to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and the result was as follows: After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My flesh was purified, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound. The flesh began to grow, and to-day, and for nearly two years past, my leg is as well as ever it was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen.
S. G. AHERN, Dubois, Dodge Co., Ga.

Terrible Suffering from Skin Diseases.

I have been a terrible sufferer for years from diseases of the skin and blood, and have been obliged to shun public places by reason of my disfiguring humors. Have had the best of physicians and spent hundreds of dollars, but got no relief until I used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have cured me, and left my skin as clear and my blood as pure as a child's.
IDA MAY BASS,
Olive Branch P. O., Miss.

From 145 Pounds to 172 Pounds.

I have taken several bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT with all the results I could wish for. About this time last year, when commencing its use, I weighed 145 pounds, and to-day I weigh 172 pounds.
GEO. CAMPBELL, Washington, D. C.

NOTE.—The CUTICURA RESOLVENT is beyond all doubt the greatest blood purifier ever compounded.

CUTICURA, the great skin cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, are a positive cure for every form of skin and blood diseases, from pimples to scrofula.

Sold everywhere. Price CUTICURA, 50 cents; SOAP, 25 cents; RESOLVENT, $1.00. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the Lungs, Liver and Kidneys.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent and an Improved Inhaler, Price, $1.
